THE MPH PROGRAM IS SOPHAS APPLICATION EXCLUSIVE

The Department of Behavioral Sciences and Health Education seeks students who will excel academically and enrich the campus and classroom environments. Our admissions process is holistic, meaning we take the whole student into account.

FUNDING

Rollins offers scholarships, financial aid awards, and work-study that allows graduate students to support their academic interests with applied public health experience through the Rollins Earn and Learn (REAL) Program. In fact, more than 500 Rollins students take advantage of the paid work opportunities available through REAL each year.

The Global Field Experience Program at Rollins also provides financial support to current students working in low-resource or high-disparity settings through a competitive review process.
