

HCBS Dementia Reading List

Shared by the Community Care Network for Dementia Data Hub

Prepared by Claire Hamilton, Emory University

Last updated January 18, 2024

Motivation

This reading list was developed by the NIA-funded U24 Community Care Network for Dementia (CaN-D). CaN-D's goal is to accelerate measurement of dementia home- and community-based services and innovative research. This reading list can help get you up to speed quickly on previously published dementia home- and community-based research. Note that this list of articles may not be exhaustive and will be updated periodically. Please send any feedback to CaN-D's director, Dr. Regina Shih at rashih@emory.edu.

Inclusion Criteria

This list was generated by searching for HCBS terms in Google, Google Scholar, and PubMed. The search was conducted between September-December 2023. Inclusion criteria included: articles, reports, grey literature in English, published in the last 15 years (2008-2023), HCBS in the United States.

Coding

Blue = peer reviewed journal articles

Purple = reports

Table of Contents

Please note that some articles and reports sometimes fall into multiple categories. We have placed literature under its best-fitting category.
